

Food and Body in Colonial Contexts in Pre-Modern Times (1600-1900)

Workshop program

4-6 May 2023

Address: Landshuter Str. 4, Regensburg, Room 319
Graduate School for East and Southeast European Studies
(GSOSES), University of Regensburg

Thursday, May 4:

- 17:00 - 17:15 Meet and greet
- 17:15 – 17:30 Welcome speech by Julia Herzberg
(Munich/Regensburg) and
Olga Trufanova (Munich/Regensburg)
- 17:30 - 18:00 Introduction round
- 18:00 - 19:00 Keynote by Rebecca Earle (Warwick),
Food and the Colonial Experience
- 19:00 - 20:00 Snacks and drinks

Friday, May 5:

9:00 - 10:30 PANEL 1. SIBERIAN CANNIBAL: MYTHS AND TRUTHS

Galina Kabakova (Paris), The Others in the Mirror of Food: Description of the Nutrition of the Peoples of Siberia in Russian and Foreign Sources of the 15th-18th Centuries

Chechesh Kudachinova (Mannheim), “Eat the Dead”: Hunger and Colonial Cannibalism in Seventeenth Century Siberia

10:30 - 10:45 Coffee break

10:45 - 12:15 PANEL 2. THE POWER OF AGRICULTURE: BODY POLITICS OF FOOD PRODUCTION

Chama Kaluba (Bloemfontain), “Women’s Stronghold”: Cassava Transforming the Status of Women in Zambia, from Pre-colonial Times (c. 1740) To 1900

Angelina Kalashnikova (Tbilisi), The Food Supply Challenges of Remote Siberian Forts in the First Half of the 17th c.: Lensky Fort Case Study

12:15 - 14:00 Lunch break

14:00 - 16:00 PANEL 3. CULINARY DIPLOMACY: COLONIAL ENCOUNTERS AT THE TABLE

Simone Zirolia (Florence), Dias de carne e dias de peixe: Portuguese Jesuits in Early Edo Japan: an Ideology of Fasting

Gabrielle Robilliard (Oldenburg), Old Foods, New Places: How Europeans re-negotiated food and drink from the Old World in colonial contexts

Markus Diepold (Regensburg), “For they fed lustily, drank heartily, and were very greasy before they finished their dinner”: Food and Drink in Eighteenth-Century Haudenosaunee-European Diplomacy

16:00 - 16:15 Coffee break

16:15 - 17:45 PANEL 4. COLONIAL FOOD IN ETHNOGRAPHIC DISCOURSE AND PRACTICE

Olga Trufanova (Regensburg/Munich), “Disgusting” Siberian Food and the Making of the Russian Empire

Nathaniel Knight (South Orange), The Ethnography of Emptiness: Scientific Exploration in Siberia and the Far East, 1820-1860

Optional:

18:00 - 19:00 Walk through the old town

19:00 Dinner together (Gasthof Dicker Mann, Krebsgasse 6, near Haidplatz)

Saturday, May 6:

9:00 - 10:30 PANEL 5. RECEIPTS AND REPRESENTATIONS AT THE INTERSECTION OF GENDER, RACE AND ETHNICITY (PART I)

Lea Horvat (Jena), Coffee knowledge, ignorance, and gender on the semiperiphery of the Habsburg Empire

Viktoriya Sukovata (Leipzig), Women and Food in Painting of European Orientalism: postcolonial analyses

10:30 - 10:45 Coffee break

10:45 - 12:15 PANEL 5. RECEIPTS AND REPRESENTATIONS AT THE INTERSECTION OF GENDER, RACE AND ETHNICITY (PART II)

Sara Evenson (Albany), The Kitchen, Bodily Experience, and Family Recipes at Van Cortland Manor

Sasha Gora (Augsburg), “Baked Alaska”: The Making and Unmaking of Bodies and Territories in Arctic Borderlands

12:30 - 13:00 Concluding remarks and discussion

In cooperation with:

Graduate School
for East and Southeast
European Studies

Sponsored by:

DFG Deutsche
Forschungsgemeinschaft

Vigilanz
Kulturen
SFB 1369